OH, sound the Lyre, the Tum-Tum and the Gong!

Awake, Ye Slumbering Denizens of Hong-Kong!
Professor Wheeler, Artist of renown,
From New York, Boston, San Francisco Towns
And other places famed in Song and Science
Has now arrived, with every new appliance,
Combined with those employed time immemorial,
Prepared to exercise the Art Tonsorial.
Others there are in town who ply the Shears,
But send their trusting Victims forth in tears,
With mutilated locks their friends all stare
And ask, "Why, who the Devil cut your hair?"
Why allow unskilled, and longtailed Chinese
Your Head to butcher, and your Purse to "squeeze?"
Upon this Isle there is not a Hair Dresser,
Can justly claim the title of Professor—
Save Wheeler, who has spent his days in toil,
In Chemic Research "burnt the Midnight Oil,"
And now by acclimation near and far
Of other Artists justly takes the Pas.
Hasten, Ye Unkempt, to his gay Salon,
Frequented by the Elite and Ton!
Dread no rebuff!—Noblesse or Parvenu,
Impartially he'll "Cut," "Shave," or Shampoo.
With Style Despatch and Neatness, at a Rate
It actually seems ridiculous to state,
Being no more—O! Ye Illustrious Dead!—
Really,—No more than Fifty Cents A Head!
Come to the Hotel Oriental, there,
Ready to Shave, or Dye, or Cut your Hair,—
Of blessings great benevolently the Dealer,—
From Morn till Night, you'll find
PROFESSOR WHEELER.

DEATH.

At Shanghai, on the 6th instant, MR. JOHN SUNLEY, JR., aged 22 years, a native of London.

The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, JUNE 12, 1865.

A LITTLE after eight last night, a fire broke out in a Painter's shop in Gilman Street, which, gaining head, threatened to prove very disastrous. The hose were secured to the plugs, and as there was abundance of water the fire was at length arrested by the exertions of the Police (which were most praiseworthy) after sixteen houses had been burnt in Gilman Street, five in Gilman Bazaar, and three in Wingon Lane.

A portion of the Garrison and some sailors from the British vessels of war in Harbor, were despatched to the scene to preserve order and to render assistance. The Chinese complain of the behaviour of the soldiers and with good reason, if what they state be true. We think the troops under such circumstances should be kept hard by, but should not be put on duty unless the urgency of the case demands it.

THE case of the rendition of the Mo Wong about which so much has been said and written, is, strange to say, worse than has ever been represented. Having at last arrived at the bottom of the affair, we are enabled to present our readers with succinct details of the tragedy for their guidance and information.

The Canton authorities demanded the refugee's rendition, and he was brought up before Mr. Whyte, the Magistrate, who, in the absence of any Ordinance or Statute conveying such authority, was directed by Mr. W. T. Mercer, the Administrator of the Government, to investigate the charge instituted by the Mandarins and to certify on the evidence adduced, whether His Worship would or would not commit for trial to the Supreme Court, provided the crime alleged fell under the jurisdiction of this colony. We are not aware whether or not Mr. Whyte knew precisely the intention of the instructions conveyed to him; but we think not. At the same time we must say we are greatly surprised at a man of his independence, humanity, and legal attainments, adopting the will of the acting Governor for the law of the land, and thereby converting his court into a vehicle for the attainment of political ends, and for the perpetration of a barbarous murder.

The testimony adduced was the evidence of one man only and was to the following tenor and effect. About three years ago, the witness was in a junk upon the Yangtsze, when the prisoner at the bar (the Mo Wong) at the head of band of men, boarded and captured the junk, and took the witness away captive. The Mo Wong then compelled the witness to become one of his followers, and witness continued against his will in that capacity for upwards of one year, when he was enabled to escape through the success of the Imperial arms. Witness found that the prisoner was the Chief of about one thousand men, and testified that during the period of his compulsory service, he had been present at the capture of several towns and cities. Witness happening to come to Hongkong lately, saw the Mo Wong in a shop and recognised him. Witness immediately gave information to the Canton Mandarins, who at once demanded the refugee's rendition.

On this testimony Mr. Whyte certified to Mr. Mercer, that there was a sufficient amount of evidence to justify him in committing the Mo Wong to take his trial at the Supreme Court on a charge of piracy, provided the necessary jurisdiction lay. It must be distinctly understood that the Canton Mandarins demanded the man's rendition on the charge of piracy involved in the above named testimony. On Mr. Whyte's certificate, Mr. Mercer surrendered the man to the Canton Mandarins through Mr. Consul Robertson, who on delivering him up did so on the distinct stipulation that he should have a fair trial. This was not only utterly avoided, but the unfortunate insurgent Chief, who had been demanded and surrendered on a charge of piracy, was put to a most excruciating death for the sin of rebellion. The horrible scene was witnessed by a gallant officer of the Hongkong garrison, who declares, that the most diabolical ingenuity was practised in the invention of the excruciating mode of torture practised on the occasion.

As to the evidence adduced,—it appears to us that there was one great defect. It all rested on the evidence of one man, whose patriotism, energy and acumen were absolutely so wonderful as to lead to the belief he was inspired. He appears to have known that the Mo Wong could not be held amenable to the Hongkong authorities—he knew the exact interpretation which the administrator of the Hongkong Government would put on the extradition clause in the treaty—he informed the Mandarins of the facts of the case—he knew exactly where to catch the victim and what evidence to give against him, and he succeeded to perfection. The Mo Wong appears to have entertained some extraordinary ideas on the subject of British jurisprudence. He knew danger was brewing, because threats had been made to enforce demands on his purse. He took legal advice and he was assured that he could not be given up. The witness against him must have been a spirit-rapper.

On a very casual review of the evidence however, the unprejudiced reader must see at a glance, that the charge against the Mo Wong was that of rebellion and nothing else. So that the British authorities,—after themselves rebelling against the Celestial government; after holding up Yeh to the execration of the world for driving the Chinese people to rebellion and then decapitating them by the thousands—after making a Convention with the Taiping insurgents for the opening of the trade on the Yangtsze—after conducting the Silk trade for two entire seasons through their hands—after solemnly pledging themselves to neutrality time and again;—surrendered one of the Rebel Chiefs (who believing their professions and respecting their institutions, had sought sanctuary in this colony,) and supplied a victim to Yeh's successors.—The British authorities, we say, treated the rascally Mandarin they had denounced and had punished too, to a feast of cruelty and to a spectacle of torture and blood which not only gladdened their sights but regaled their palates.

Ah, well, the poor man's sufferings are over now—but we would not have his blood upon our head either for the influence of Downing Street or the wealth of Lombard Street. Mr. Mercer stands in a position in this matter to excite pity from his worst enemy, however indignant that enemy may be at his inhuman illegal conduct. Mr. Mercer acted in a designing manner—not only had he time to reflect, but in the course of the perpetration of the crime he was bent on committing, a friend called on him and admonishing him, took the utmost pains to convince him of the danger and consequences of so reprehensible a course as he contemplated.

He has committed a deed which will for all time attach deep infamy to the British name in China—and however much we condemn his whole career in Hongkong—however defective we deem in intelligence—however incapable we may think him to hold any office of responsibility or trust, we certainly cannot reflect upon his conduct in the case before us without shuddering at the idea of what his own night-thoughts must be regarding it. Of course every man's mind is differently constituted, and each one only judges of another in these questions of conscience by consulting himself. We suppose that all must depend upon a man's actual, not professed, belief in a future state, and hence the peculiar but certain deduction, that all bad men are misbelievers—they may be hypocrites but we mean to say that conscience can alone be quelled by misbelief.

The case of the Mo Wong is really horrible. The idea sets our nerves on edge. The parties implicated are attempting to misrepresent matters; we beg of our readers to believe what we have stated.

We find the following items of telegraphic intelligence from Bombay, in our files of Calcutta papers received per Arratoon Apcar:—

Byramjee Hormusjee Cama failed. Liabilities exceeded three crores. Assets expected to realise twelve annas in Rupee. All the Banks are creditors, and their shares decreased in consequence. The responsibility for march from Mhow thrown upon Major General Green.

Ship Ellora with Canton seeds and wool for Liverpool foundered a few hours after leaving Bombay, cargo entirely lost, crew saved. Trustees appointed to Cama's estate.

NEWS FROM THE NORTH.

Shanghai.

An attempt has been made by the Harbour Master to erect a beacon on Centaur shoal. Some difficulty was experienced in screwing down the pile upon which the basket is to be supported, so that the desired object has not yet been attained. In a few days, however, additional appliances will be sent up and the beacon fixed in its place. It will prove a great boon to the river steamers, for, standing fifteen feet above high water mark, it will enable them to run without danger from Langshan to Wusung whenever there is sufficient light to render it visible. By next mail we shall probably be in a position to report its completion.

The appointment of Sir Harry Parkes to the post of English Minister in Japan has given unmixed satisfaction. Shanghai will, it is true, sustain a heavy loss in his removal, but the advantages to English political interests in the far East which will be secured by his presence in Japan more than counterbalance the deprivation of that watchful care with which he has guarded mercantile interests in Shanghai.—Shanghai Market Report.

The only item of news of importance as regards Foreign relations is the selection of a piece of Land at Nankin for a Foreign Settlement, but as yet no particulars have transpired. The renowned San-ko-lin-sin has fallen. He was killed about the 18th to 20th May in an engagement with the Nienfei, who are said to have been joined by a body of Taepings, of whom the Chief in command is named Sun-chin Ehi formerly a military mandarin. The battle in which San-ko-lin-sin fell was fought near a small town in the Prefecture of Ts'ao-chau on the South West frontier of Shantung.

Chung-how the Superintendent of Trade had started off with the drilled troops and nearly all the available forces to the scene of action. News had reached Tientsin that the Rebels had already entered the province of Chihle and were only about 180 miles distant. They were supposed to be advancing direct on Tientsin and the Capital. The affair was beginning to look serious as the river was crammed with junks bringing the Tribute from the South, and if the Rebels once got there they would have a splendid chance. The officials were in a great state of alarm and had apparently but small hopes of checking the progress of the banditti. Futai Li has been raised two degrees.—Recorder.

Soochow.

On the 26th ulto, we were put in possession of the following items of information, which have since been confirmed in regular course:—

San-ko-lin-sin is dead.

Tseng Kuo-fan goes to assume command of the Shantung army.

Li Futai is appointed to the acting governor generalship of the two Kiang.

Liu Fantai takes charge temporarily of the governorship of Kiang-su.

The Kiang-su Lio-tai will supply the Fantai's place until advices shall be received from Peking.

In addition to the acting appointment (since confirmed) which Li Futai has thus obtained, he has been raised to the rank of Han-ye-pe, an advance of two steps in the nobility of the empire. The ravages committed by the rebels in the province of Kiangsi have just received a further illustration by the issue of a proclamation setting forth that the examination halls at Quinsan, which were in former days celebrated for their size and magnificence, having been razed to the ground by the rebels, students from Soochow and Taitsang, about to compete for the degree of Siu-tsai, will for the future be examined in their own cities, as Quinsan no longer possesses a building capable of accommodating a large number of candidates.—Shanghai Market Report.

Hankow.

Native reports announce an attack made by a body of braves on the foreign settlement. The sailors were landed (so runs the tale) from the Hardy, and had a smart engagement with the intruders, who quickly retreated. Pao, the general in command, arrested and beheaded more than thirty of the ringleaders. We have no advices confirmatory of this report, and on the other hand we were informed by our latest letters that the Hardy was lying at Kiukiang. The report must therefore be taken for what it is worth. The tea season at this port has opened at Taels 33.6 per picul for Oopack Congous, a price which, but for the competition amongst foreign houses need by no means have been paid. There is valid ground for disappointment in this action of the foreign buyers, as the London tea market, so far as our latest advices inform us, is in no position to stand additional stock. A little delay on the part of intending purchasers would have had an excellent effect on the Chinese who for the past three years have been taught to believe that any price will be paid for teas forced at an unnaturally early period into the market.—Ibid.

Nanking.

The foreign and native officers sent up to select a site for a settlement have returned to Shanghai, and report that little or no advantage would accrue from establishing Nanking as an open port. A plot of ground measuring about two hundred and forty mow has been chosen as the most eligible for the purpose, but this is so surrounded by marshes that European life would be placed in imminent peril during the hot season. —Ibid.

Shantung.

The Nien-fei in this province have ranged themselves under the banners of the following leaders:—Miao, a nephew of the notorious Miao Pei-ling; Chang, a son of the equally celebrated Chang Lo-hsing, who was long the terror of the North-western provinces; and Shên, a son of the late Shên Pao, who was strangled last year for corruption in the province of Shensi. Success has not of late attended their exertions. Native reports inform us that they have been driven out of the large unwalled city of Chung-hsing on the Yellow River. Wu Tang has posted his men in strong bodies on the right bank to protect the important cities of Kiang-peh, so that there is little danger of a raid into the valley of the Yang-tsze.—Ibid.

Chefoo.

The spring race meeting was held on the 8th ultimo, and brought forward several excellent ponies. Trade is dull, and there is no political news.—Ibid.

Taku.

An officer and thirty men of the 20th Regiment will be sent immediately to replace the men of the 99th Regiment at present stationed at the mouth of the Peiho. These latter will rejoin head-quarters, and proceed to the Cape. —Ibid.

Amoy.

We have some further information touching Burgevine.—The black man, Stanley, did the part of sucker for the whale.—Upon him devolved the task of coaxing Burgevine out of his shell, i. e., the vessel on which he resided,—and as Stanley had formerly served under the General, the task was not difficult, the invitation coming as from an Imperialist Mandarin to visit his Stockade, or Encampment, at no great distance from Amoy—the rebels at the time having actually left Chang-chow-foo. The man who captured Burgevine and his companions was Ross, Inspector of Customs, one of Scott's Turnkeys at the Hongkong Gaol a few years ago; a very good man in his way, always ready to perform such duty as he might be directed. The fact of Burgevine's capture being so effected, proves that the General was not out of the precincts of the port, and should blood have been spilt on this occasion, we shall know what quarter to look for satisfaction.

There is no doubt, we believe, but Mr. Gerard, of Gerard Co. Amoy, has been murdered by the Imperialists. Engaged by Dr. Meritens, he went to Chang-chow-foo on a mission of seduction; and if the Tao-tai-wang had acted as Accidental Generals do, he would have hung or shot him with short shrift. But it was not so. Gerard was simply detained until the evacuation previously determined on took place, then he was escorted by Rhode himself as close as possible to the Imperialist lines. No more of an authentic nature is known than that his newly married wife has heard no more of him. But a headless body was found near the place where Rhode left him; and though we say it with deep respect for the widow's tears, his fate, we apprehend, was only what he deserved. He had been playing that detestable part in a rebellion, —a double game.

The way in which it was discovered that Rhode had so acted towards Gerard was this. A memorandum book was found in Chang-chow-foo after its entry by the Imperialists in which all that had occurred was jotted down in log shape;—the indignation evinced by the foreigners at the supposition that Do Meritens could buy them being intense. They have had full experience of a Mandarines faith they say—and will never trust to it again even on the Oath of a dozen French dogs (literal expression.)—Friend of China.

The Prince of Kung.

Decree Recalling the Prince to the Great Council.

(Translation.)

On the 14th of the 4th moon of the 4 year of Tung Chi (8th May 1865) [the Grand Secretariat] had the honor to receive the following Imperial Decree:—

We have had the honor to receive the maternal commands of Their Majesties the Empress Dowager as follows:—

The Prince of Kung was this day bidden to an audience to return thanks for favor shown him. Bowing himself to the ground, he wept sore; he was as one who could not endure himself. We addressed him [words of] instruction and admonition, and the Prince aforesaid did so blame himself and showed such signs of remorse and contrition that We were greatly moved.

When the hanging screen was let fall (re. at the commencement of the regency) the Prince of Kung was specially selected to act as [chief] adviser upon state affairs in the Council. During the years that have since elapsed he has so acted, and while himself largely the object of Imperial favour, he had delegated to him an undivided authority. [As the possessor of which] he was beyond comparison more than any other minister at court of importance to the weal and woe of his sovereign. [He was punished notwithstanding and punished severely] but simply because being from his great elevation easily assailable [when he was assailed it was found that] from unguardedness in certain particulars he had committed himself; and, in proportion as Our hopes of this Prince were high, so was it incumbent upon Us, when We chastened him, to chasten him with great severity.

The Prince of Kung has had the sense to perceive Our meaning; he has amended his errors and renewed himself. The sovereign in the employment or dismissal, the advancement or degradation of public servants in the capital or in the provinces, acts not otherwise openly and on a principle of justice; He is never in the least influenced by his prepossessions, still less, then, in the case of the Prince of Kung, who is a minister of high consideration from his near relationship to the throne and for the confidence [on that account reposed in him]; he is possessed withal of abilities which make him a competent adviser upon state affairs. How then could the sovereign choose to leave him to the self-indulgence and idleness which would be his lot were he to be treated now otherwise than as he was at first?

Let the Prince of Kung again become a member of the Council. He need not reassume the designation of chief adviser. It will thence be seen [that his honours have been] diminished [in order to his] correction.

Prince! Forget not the remorse and contrition felt this day. Be more than ever set upon sobriety and respectfulness. Strive earnestly to show gratitude for Our favor by your services. Let no feeling of doubt or dread now, any more than in past times, commit you, be it ever so little, to the delegation to others of your proper responsibilities. Thus will you respond to Our high hopes.

Respect this!—The North China Herald.

The North China Herald's view of the matter.

It were hard to say whether the sudden and summary dismissal of the Prince of Kung from his offices of trust and emolument, or his almost equally sudden reinstatement, has taken the Euro-Chinese world the more by surprise. Convicted or at any rate, authoritatively accused of the highest crimes and misdemeanors, he has been replaced in those positions to which the most undoubted integrity should be the only passport. Chinese notions of propriety are far different from ours, and indeed their political and domestic systems are such as to make us believe that honesty, instead of being an abstract excellence inseparable from a virtuous man, is, after all merely a matter of convention. No attempt has been made by the Throne to exculpate the Prince from the accusations brought against him. He is pardoned but not vindicated. His actions are still acknowledged to have been atrocious, but the Emperor out of his clemency has consented to pass over his delinquencies, and restore him to favor. Our information is too scanty to justify us in asserting positively either the guilt or innocence of the Prince, but this at least is evident, that while the supreme authorities, represented, we presume, by the Empresses Dowager, refer explicitly to his offences and tacitly admit that they are beyond palliation, they at the same time raise him to the position which he had before held with regard to foreigners. Whether the Western representatives will accept the change thus forced upon them—whether the mere dictum of the Throne is sufficient to assoilzie a man against whom every presumption of guilt exists, are question for their private consideration. The peculiar charater of the Chinese government, by virtue of which the sovereign is the prophet and priest as well as the king of his subjects, may probably be taken into consideration, and thus, the Emperor's pardon taken in connexion with the penance already done, may entitle the Prince to meet even scrupulous western diplomatists on an equal footing. It is only in such a country as China that the hierarchical power of the Crown could be so recognised, for as the patriarch of his race, and the representative of the Deity, whose high-priest he is, the commission of what we should consider a crime becomes intensified into a sin, while at the same time the other result is produced, that the stigma of guilt may be removed at the Emperor's fiat. It is worthy of note that in the edict published by us on the 22nd ult., as well as in that which will be found in another column, the only accusations referred to are those of "self-indulgence, idleness and disrespect," while we look in vain for any reference to the charges of corruption. Yet in the formidable impeachment submitted by the Censor, he was represented as having caused great scandal by his favoritism, cupidity, inordinate pretensions and undue arrogation of authority. In addition to these general accusations the Emperor himself adduced instances of the Regent's overweening pride, and the result of the combined attack was that Kung Chin Wang found himself deprived of all his posts and denied even the right of entry into the palace. The rigor of this sentence not only shows that it was the Emperor's forbearance alone which prompted him to spare so mighty a prince from the disgrace of a public enquiry, but also implies that the truth of the charges was so patent as not to require any elaborate proof. Such then being the crimes of which the Prince was guilty, his honor (speaking conventionally) is tainted beyond the power of any soverign to restore, unless, indeed, the foreign ministers accept the position as laid down by the Chinese and practically recognise the guilt-purifying power of the Emperor's decree. It is, with difficulty that we realise the astounding fact of a statesman entrusted with the highest responsibilities, yet convicted of all that we look on as most base and ignoble, being without a semblance of trial, and after a merely farcical punishment, reinstated in all his dignities, and placed in command of the same means which before he grossly abused. If the charges against the Prince be true, if the feeble wall set up by his younger brother be merely a sacrifice to family affection and Chinese decorum, Prince Kung may indeed look upon himself as a lucky man. Restored to power with the same insatiable appetites as he possessed before, he has had his malice sharpened and his caution increased. He has learned a lesson from his temporary disgrace, but that lesson when developed into action will, we imagine, hardly justify those high hopes for his future conduct which the Throne professes that it entertains.

Japan.

Summary of Fortnight.

The Herald's Market Report of 27th May.

Since the departure of the P. & O. Steamer Pekin with the Mail for Europe, on the 13th Inst. we have received by the Nepaul the outward mail—with letters and papers to the 27th March and Telegrams to the 4th April.

The news of Sir Rutherford Alcock's appointment to the court of Pekin, and that he was not to return here was a source of universal regret, but the expectation of Sir Harry Parkes succeeding him in Japan has proved reassuring; as it is hoped that certain peculiarities of Sir Rutherford, which throughout his official career have rendered many of his acts of little or no permanent advantage, being non-existent in the character of Sir H. Parkes, a more far seeing and absolute policy may be inaugurated.

Dr. Winchester, at present H. B. M's. Chargé d'Affaires here, proceeds to Shanghai, to succeed Sir H. Parkes as Consul at that port.—What further changes are to be made in the consular department have not yet become known.

Political events, which in our last port, we could only mention as rumors, have now assumed a definite and unmistakeable shape. The Tycoon is preparing for an immediate invasion of Prince Nagato,—and the latter with Satsuma and many other powerful daimios are preparing to resist him. During the past fortnight many officers have been down from Yeddo purchasing arms; and some declared positively that the young Tycoon is himself to head his troops, and expressed their assurance that he would prove a worthy descendant of Gongen sama.—About a week ago, the Tycoon reviewed at Comaba, a village to the west of Yeddo, 100,000 of the troops destined to this service the bulk of whom were armed as of old, with spears and swords,—a small proportion only being armed with rifles and bayonets.—It is spoken of as certain, that Burgevine has been placed in important command by Choshiu; and that order American and European adventurers are with him. Burgevine is spoken of by the Japanese as the "American Lonin."

What turn affairs may now take it is difficult to foresee. In our weekly issue of the 20th May, we pointed out, that undoubtedly the Tycoon is the representative of the "progress party" in Japan, as opposed to that of the upholders of feudality and the exclusion of foreigners from the country. If he be the victor in the approaching strife, he will be strong enough to enforce his policy, and rule Japan with a firm and unwavering hand. Should he fail, the country at once becomes plunged into anarchy and disorder, in which every daimio will claim to be acknowledged as independent. Our present treaties would not be worth the ink they are inscribed with; and to continue our trade with the country at all, separate treaties would be required for every prince, not one of which after all, would be strictly legal. It is unquestioned that Prince Satsuma is most favorable to foreign commerce, and avails himself of it to a very considerable extent. Choshiu expresses himself as equally desirous of sharing in its advantages.—Still, there must be one strong stable government, with which to have defined and practicable arrangements. The Tycoon has been loyal to his engagements, as far as the great difficulties thrown in his way by the Daimios enabled him to be; whilst Satsuma and Choshiu however eager now for foreign intercourse, we must not forget, had both to be brought to their bearings, by a display of European force. Whatever moral support we can give, therefore, should be yielded to the Tycoon.

The Municipal Council of Yokohama is at length formed. It consists of 25 Members, composed of various nationalities in proportion to the quantity of property held by each.

We are still without further intelligence respecting the supposed accomplice in the recent murders at Kamakura.

Socially, we have but little to report. On Wednesday, the Queen's Birthday, the usual demonstrations of loyalty were exhibited. The ships of war in harbor adorned in all their holiday attire, fired a royal salute at noon, and for the first time in the history of our intercourse with this country, the Japanese forts at Kanagawa did likewise. The troops were reviewed by the Commandant, Lieut.-Colonel Browne; the acting battery of artillery fired a salute, and the XX and Royal Marines a feu de joie, presented arms, cheered, and after marching past in slow and quick time, were dismissed. In the evening H.B.M's. Chargé d'Affaires gave a ball. The French Minister's house was brilliantly illuminated with festoons of Japanese lanterns, red, white and blue alternately, and in front—over the doorway was a transparency "Vivat VICTORIA Regina." The French barracks were also beautifully illuminated in a similar manner, saving the transparency, which in their case, was the simple letter V. The banks were open as usual for the transaction of business during the day.

Many robberies are daily occurring in our Settlement. One evening last week, the office of Mr. Walsh, the Postmaster, at the British Consulate was entered and a dispatch box with $1,000 worth of stamps stolen.

There has been a good deal of Typhus and other illnesses of a kindred character amongst the Europeans, whilst in the native town there have been in addition to a fearful prevalence of Typhus, two deaths from cholera. This arises entirely from the dreadful state of the Swamp at the back of the Settlement, but more particularly of the Japanese quarter—and although a large portion of this swamp has to be filled up by the Japanese government in accordance with the convention of October last, and although the European representatives have had their attention drawn to the condition of the swamp, to the state of the public health, and to the consequences that may be apprehended as the Summer advances they appear to prefer to "let things take their course" —and like Gallio "care for none of those things."

Among the ships of war, we have little to chronicle. H. M's. S. Scylla arrived on Sunday last from Shanghai—and H. I. M. S. Dupleix left on Thursday for Hakodadi. H. M's S. Conqueror expect orders by next mail to take on board the Royal Marines, and proceed home with them.

It is believed that two companies of the 11th Regiment will shortly arrive here.

Our market reports will be found in other columns.

Hakodadi.

Our correspondent, writing under date of April 30th, informs us of a fire which occurred early in the morning of the 15th April. It arose in the least part of the town, and was not checked for some hours. Five hundred houses and godowns were consumed. Most of the Japanese so-called "fire-proof" store-houses stood. Only one foreigner suffered, by having his hotel burned down. The exact cause is not precisely known. Some of the foreign residents aided materially with their fire-engines in arresting the flames.

The harbor is full of whale-ships taking in supplies before going North. The Russian government steamers Boyalyr and Sakhalin are in port. The ship Lottie Maria, from Hongkong bound to San Francisco, with Rice and Chinese passengers put it on the 18th April, and left again on the 18th. She was twice ashore, and not without some difficulty got off.

Trade continues dull.

PENINSULAR & ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY.

NOTICE OF REDUCTION OF PASSAGE MONEY.

IN the year 1857 the Directors made a considerable reduction in the Company's rates of Passage Money, which continued in force till 1861.

In that year owing to the extraordinary rise in the Cost and Freight of Coals, and the enhanced price of all descriptions of Naval Stores, the Directors were reluctantly compelled to return to the rates of Passage Money previously in force. They are now happy to state that a decrease in the price of Coal and other expenses of Steam Navigation enables them to reduce the Company's Passage rates to the undernoted scale, which will take effect from and after the 1st June next, viz:—

From Hongkong to—

Suez,	$460
Malta,	510
Marseilles,	530
Gibraltar,	530
Southampton,	550

Reserved Rates for Single Persons.

Suez,	$920
Malta,	1,020
Marseilles,	1,060
Gibraltar,	1,060
Southampton,	1,100

Reserved Rates for Married Couples.

Suez,	$1,160
Malta,	1,260
Gibraltar,	1,348
Marseilles,	1,348
Southampton,	1,388

The charges for Children are in proportion to the above.

The above rates are exclusive of the amount payable to the Egyptian Transit Administration for conveyance of Passengers through Egypt, viz:—

For First-class Passengers, $32
Children above three and under ten years, half-fare.
